Meet Your Instructors

Hello, I'm James Shumate. I am a husband, father of three and child of the Lord Jesus Christ. I believe the forefathers of this country were great learners of history as they observed the tyrannical nature of governments and power structures. That is why they penned such vital protections of the people when writing the Constitution of the United States.

As a Firearms Instructor I have the pleasure of teaching and learning from many people of differing skill levels and walks of life. I have a passion for instructing and shooting, as do all of us at CVT. The best part of this job is the freedom in the curriculum and trust that is given to us in our chosen delivery methods. If I get to work with you on the range or in the classroom, I will likely have a sarcastic remark, joke to crack or be very competitive during our friendly competitions. I hope to see you soon!

Blessed be the Lord, my rock,
Who trains my hands for war,
And my fingers for battle;
Psalm 144:1
